Program description

Powerful vocational training in combination with excellent “working” English makes a graduate of a Master's program an ideal candidate for working in multinational companies. The specific work position depends on the field of specialization during the study. Students prone to investing in financial markets can work in investment banks and funds, financial departments of large organizations as investment managers, consultants and analysts. Those who were better in the process of studying questions of international / Russian accounting and corporate governance can rely on a career as a financial analyst in large industrial companies. All subjects are taught in English. The program includes the disciplines necessary to prepare for the delivery of international professional exams (CFA, ACCA, ICAEW). The program is accredited by the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants). Winner of the international competition KPMG in the direction of "The best campus for recruiting."
